Subject: Statement Conflict Minerals

To whom it may concern,

Interflon B.V. is committed to ethical practices and full compliance with laws and regulations. On August 22nd 2012, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) adopted rules to implement reporting and disclosure requirements related to "conflict minerals", as directed by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010.

The definition of "conflict minerals" includes gold, tin, tantalum, tungsten, the derivatives of cassiterite, columbite-tantalite, and wolframite, regardless where sourced, processed or sold.

Interflon B.V. adheres to these requirements to further the humanitarian goal of ending violent conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC) and surrounding countries, which has been partially financed by the exploitation and trade of these "conflict minerals".

Interflon B.V. will not knowingly procure specified minerals that originate from the "conflict region," or that are not certified as "conflict-free".

Interflon B.V. will exercise reasonable due diligence, which includes asking suppliers to provide written evidence documenting that raw materials supplied to Interflon B.V. originate from outside the "conflict region" or, if they originate from within the "conflict region," that the mines or smelters are certified as "conflict-free". The objective is to ensure that only "conflict-free" materials are used in Interflon products.

If we discover the use of minerals produced in potentially "non-conflict free" facilities in any material we procure, we will take appropriate action to confirm and certify the product as "conflict-free" or eliminate its use.
